Agave Boulevardier 花花公子（墨西哥式）

138

Olmecca Reposado Tequila, Campari, Dolin Dry Vermouth

Its creation is ascribed to Erskine Gwynne, an American-born writer who founded a monthly magazine in Paris called Boulevardier, which appeared from 1927 to 1932.

Angel Face 天使之颜

138

Julu Dry Jin, Apricot Brandy

This Prohibition-era cocktail was made timeless through its inclusion in bartender Harry Craddock's 1930 publication of The Savoy Cocktail Book. Some believe the drink was named after a mobster, possibly Abe "Angel Face" Kaminsky, who was notorious for robbing Detroit speakeasies.

Aviation 飞行

158

Monkey 47 Gin, Luxardo Maraschino, Giffard Violet Liqueur

The original Aviation cocktail was first published in Hugo R. Ensslin's 1916 Recipes for Mixed Drinks and made great use of Alps produced liqueur Crème de Violette, the colour of which is alluded to in the drink's very name. Harry Craddock later printed the recipe in his 1930 publication, Savoy Cocktail Book.

Cocktails 鸡尾酒

Forgotten Cocktails 被忘却的鸡尾酒

Bee's Knees 蜂之膝 138

Julu Dry Gin, Lemon Juice, Honey Syrup

The Bee's Knees is thought to have emerged during Prohibition era America, when bathtub gin was all the rage. Adding spoonfuls of honey to such bitter alcohol certainly would have helped to mask the harshness, and when mixed with the lemon would create a more appetising and sweet concoction.

Between The Sheets 床笫之间 158

Martell V.S.O.P Cognac, Diplomatico Planas White Rum

This drink is also thought of as a riff on the Sidecar recipe, which MacElhone included in his ABC of Mixing Cocktails book. MacElhone was so successful that he was able to buy Harry's New York Bar in Paris in the 1920s, and it's here that he's said to have come up with Between the Sheets.

Champagne Cocktail 香槟鸡尾酒 228

Henri Giraud Champagne, Remy Martin V.S.O.P Cognac, Angostura Bitters

The first written mention of the Champagne Cocktail appears in the 'Panama in 1855. An Account of the Panama Rail-road, of the cities of Panama and Aspinwall with sketches of life and characters on the Isthmus by Robert Tomes'. Published 1855 in New York by Harper & Brothers.

Clover Club 三叶草俱乐部

Beefeater 24 Gin, Dolin Dry Vermouth, Pasteurized Egg White

The Clover Club cocktail can be traced back to the late 1800s and Philadelphia's Bellevue-Stratford hotel. This popular hangout drew crowds of writers, lawyers and titans of industry, who convened to talk about issues of the day. Naturally, their meetings included drinks, and the Clover Club with gin, fresh lemon juice, raspberry syrup and egg white was a favorite among this genteel set.

Corpse Reviver #.2 死而复生二号

158

Julu Dry Jin, Lillet Blanc, Absinthe, Cointreau

The Corpse-Reviver family of drinks has unclear origins, but what we do know is they are mentioned in cocktail books as early as 1871 in The Gentleman's Table Guide. This version, the Corpse Reviver #2, was included in Harry Craddock's famous Savoy Cocktail Book published in 1930. He wrote, "To betaken before 11 a.m., or whenever steam and energy are needed."

El Presidente 总统

138

Clement White Rum, Dolin Dry Vermouth, Cointreau

The exact origin is unknown, but according to Esquire magazine, El Presidente was created by Eddie Woelke, an American bartender at the Jockey Club in Havana, Cuba. He named the drink in honour of the Presidente Gerardo Machado who ruled Cuba throughout most of the prohibition years.

Cocktails 鸡尾酒

Forgotten Cocktails 被忘却的鸡尾酒

Fog Cutter 雾之刃

158

Remy Martin V.S.O.P Cognac, Barcardi Dark Rum, Amontillado Sherry

Fog Cutter is a follow-up to Mai-Tai's tropical mixology. Don the Beachcomber had to bring in the cavalry to claim ownership of the original Fog Cutter. Bartender Tony Ramos, a member of the original bar team at Don's Los Angeles restaurant, named after a deadly diving knife, cites Edna Earl's Fog Cutter restaurant as the inspiration for the drink. Trader Vic, however, published a recipe for the drink in 1947 and remarks: "Fog Cutter, hell. After two of these, you won't even see the stuff."

French 75 法兰西七十五

228

Henri Giraud Champagne, Beefeater 24 Gin, Lemon Juice

The drink dates to World War I, and an early form was created in 1915 at the New York Bar in Paris—later Harry's New York Bar—by barman Harry MacElhone.

The combination was said to have such a kick that it felt like being shelled with the powerful French 75mm field gun.

Gibson 吉普森

188

Monkey 47 Gin, Dolin Dry Vermouth

The most common story you'll hear is that the Gibson was invented when Charles Dana Gibson, the guy behind famous Gibson Girl drawings from the 1890s to the 1920s, asked a bartender at the Players Club in Manhattan to improve his Martini — to which the bartender complied by dropping an onion in the drink.

Cocktails 鸡尾酒

Forgotten Cocktails 被忘却的鸡尾酒

Grasshopper 青草蚱

158

Remy Martin V.S.O.P Cognac, Creme de Menthe, White Creme de Cacao

The Grasshopper was allegedly created in 1918 at the Tujague bar in New Orleans by Philibert Guichet a professional bartender for a cocktail competition, but it didn't become a household name until the 1950s, as Prohibition squandered the growth and familiarity of many cocktails born just before the restricted-drinking era began. The Grasshopper really is the perfect after-dinner cocktail, satisfying that need for something sweet and delicious, while giving the traditional milkshake a more mature touch.

Hanky Panky 阴谋诡计

138

Julu Dry Jin, Antica Formula Vermouth, Fernet Branca

Hanky Panky was the brainchild of Ida Coleman, known as "Coley," who began working as a bartender at the Savoy in 1903. Her benefactor was Rupert D'Ouilly Carter, a member of the family that first created Gilbert and Sullivan operas in London and built the Savoy Hotel.

Last Word 临别一语

158

Julu Dry Jin, Green Chartreuse, Luxardo Maraschino

The Last Word is a Prohibition-era cocktail that got its beginnings in the Detroit Athletic Club's bar in the early 1920s. The drink was served at the bar throughout this period and was spread further afield by vaudeville performer Frank Fogarty – also known as the 'Dublin Minstrel'.

Martinez 马丁内斯

188

Monkey 47 Gin, Antica Formula Vermouth, Luxardo Maraschino

The history of the Martinez cocktail is often the subject of debate with some claiming that the cocktail was invented in the town of Martinez, California during the Gold Rush in the 1850s. The Martinez first appeared in O.H. Byron's The Modern Bartender published in 1884 with no recipe listed, only the words "Same as Manhattan, only you substitute gin for whisky".

Mint Julep 薄荷茱丽普

138

Wild Turkey Bourbon Whiskey, Sugar Syrup, Fresh Mint Leaves

Mint julep. Most historians agree that the mint julep was developed within Virginia high society during the late 1700s or early 1800s. In its early days Virginians would sip on mint juleps, served in silver goblets, over breakfast. During this time they were made with brandy or rum.

Monkey Gland 大圣汤

188

Monkey 47 Gin, Absinthe, Orange Juice

Created in the late 1920s by Harry MacElhone at his Harry's New York Bar in Paris, France. The Money Gland takes its name from the work of Dr Serge Voronoff who, convinced that testosterone was vital to a long and healthy life, transplanted monkey testicles onto elderly Frenchmen.

Paloma 帕洛玛 138

Olmeca Blanco Tequila, Grapefruit Juice, Grapefruit Sparkling Water

Little is known about the historical origin of the Paloma, the most popular tequila-based cocktail in Mexico. Sazerac 萨泽瑞克 188

Martell Noblige Cognac, Absinthe, Angostura Bitter, Lime Juice

The story of the Sazerac cocktail began in 1838 when Antoine Amedie Peychaud, a New Orleans apothecary, mixed cognac with his proprietary Peychaud's Bitters. In the 1850s, this "toddy" (not a hot toddy, but an early name for a cocktail) was the signature drink of the Sazerac Coffee House in New Orleans.

Sidecar 边车 188

Remy Martin V.S.O.P Cognac, Cointreau, Lemon Juice

The exact origin of the sidecar is unclear, but it is thought to have been invented around the end of World War I in either London or Paris. The drink was directly named for the motorcycle attachment, which was very commonly used back then. The Ritz Hotel in Paris claims origin of the drink.

The Southside 南方 138

Julu Dry Gin, Orange Bitter, Lime Juice, Fresh Mint Leaves

Al Capone's gang smuggled in a gin that was much harsher and less palatable. Creating cocktails with it therefore required more ingredients, such as citrus fruit and sugar. The drink concocted apparently became very popular with Al Capone and his associates, and christened it the Southside.

Cocktails 鸡尾酒

Tuxedo Cocktail 燕尾服鸡尾酒

138

Julu Dry Gin, Dolin Dry Vermouth, Luxardo Maraschino

The drink's name refers to the Tuxedo Park, a sort of early experiment in country club living established in 1886 about 35 miles from Jersey City.

The members of this bourgie utopia were called Tuxedoites and before shuffling out of the city after work they no doubt stopped off at the city's top bars, most notable among them: the Waldorf-Astoria bar, where this drink was born.

Vieux Carré 老卡雷

188

Remy Martin V.S.O.P Cognac,

Ritten House Rye Whiskey, Bitters

The bartender's name was Adam Karsten so he created what he called the Adam's Apple Martini, which later became the generic Appletini.
